LIVESTOCK GOSSIP PREY ON TH' GULLIBLE

One of th' things that stick out like a sore toe these days are how th' folks we smugly refer to as News Persons will quote just about anybody on any subject and some of th' stuff they dish out is so ridiculous as to be funny. If it were not taken seriously by so many people. For instance, some of those medico-journalistic gossips and food writers have propounded unfounded theories of self-servin' interests that as of now if a tiny fraction of what they have been puttin' out was true we would all already be dead & gone.

There is hardly a thing that we eat, drink or breathe that ain't plumb deadly. Th' anti-salt proponents have resulted in more people collapsing from lack of sodium than from fatal amounts of this essential mineral. Jist th' other

TFU Pleased With PIK Sign Up

Waco — The President of Texas Farmers Union announced today that he was extremely encouraged by the response of Texas farmers to the Payment-in-Kind (PIK) Farm Program, and issued a call for all farm organizations to work together for a long-term program to provide continuous supply management of agricultural commodities.

Washington Mar. 24 (USDA) — Commercial Red Meat Production for the United States during February 1983 totaled 2.79 billion pounds (1.25 million metric tons), according to the Crop Reporting Board.

Water Bonds for Low Cost Loans Being Proposed

Austin — Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and state Sen. John Montford (D-Lubbock) Thursday presented details of a water conservation proposal that potentially could save almost 200 times as much water as Texas presently drink.

Higher Feeding Costs, Lower Feeder Prices Have Feeders Wondering About Effects, Farmers Get Cash Out Front

The massive sign-up in the payment-in-kind (PIK) program presented farmers by the USDA caught not only Government people, but the grain and livestock traders by surprise. There is no doubt the effects in all areas of agriculture will be tremendous and this week all concerned were trying to figure out just what the changes will be.

Farm Bureau Labels PIK "Big Boost"

Park Ridge, Ill. March 22 — The nation's largest organization of farmers greeted today's announcement of widespread farmer participation in President Reagan's "Payment in Kind" (PIK) program as "a big boost along the way to farm recovery."

Cattle Raisers Wrestle With Major Issues At Convention

FORT WORTH, March 24—Members of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, meeting in Austin last week for their 106th annual convention, wrestled with major issues facing the nation and the livestock industry.

Seelgson, a San Antonio rancher, sketched a disturbing picture of Mexico's instability. He cited its high unemployment and a rapidly growing population with half of its citizens under the age of 17 as ingredients for potential unrest.

This fall's soybean crop is projected at 2.1 billion bushels, an 8% reduction from last year. Stocks as of Aug. 31, 1984, are expected to total 285 million bushels, a year-to-year reduction of 25%.

"We would rather have nothing than a measure that promises hope, deludes us into tranquility and leaves us with the problem unresolved," Seelgson said.

The cattlemen were advised to work on the H-2 program for non-immigrant foreign workers to help stabilize the work force in agriculture. Seelgson, who has testified on the immigration bill, criticized the current H-2 program as enmeshed in bureaucratic red tape, but said TSCRA would work with Congress.

Storm Market, Higher Beef Boost Fed Cattle, Hog Prices Mixed

Reduced supplies of slaughter cattle and hogs due to the winter storm appeared at the central markets on Monday. Fed steers and heifers were mostly firm to sharply higher. The short supplies and a stronger market for carcass beef in the opening trade boosted prices.

or early summer. Grain producers will get a quick infusion of cash, if they sell the grain they will receive for compliance. Grain producers will also save a large amount of money which would have been put into planting crops and also will come out ahead by saving harvest costs on grain that will be grazed. However, some of this may be offset by lower prices they will get for the cattle they rushed to buy to graze those acres.

In the past few weeks feeder cattle and calves advanced sharply in price as farmers purchased the needed numbers, and there has been some shortage of cows for slaughter in recent weeks as many of them put cows and calves onto the grain that is to be grazed.

The profound effect of the PIK program stirred lots of action in the grain futures markets and boosted prices sharply in the trading pits. Some advances on wheat have been trimmed in recent days due to profit taking. However, corn and soybeans continued their upward march Monday.

Considerable speculation in the trade concerns whether farmers taking acres out of corn may in turn plant beans or other crops on the set-aside acres. The scope of the question involved is explained by the unusual report last week of USDA estimates of the size of the crops expected.

The Agriculture Department projected that this fall's corn crop will be 39% smaller than last year's record production of 8.4 billion bushels.

The government forecast a 6.6 billion-bushel harvest. The department also estimated that corn stocks on Sept. 30, 1984, would be 1.9 billion bushels, some 44% less than at this Sept. 30.

"The department usually makes its first estimate of the fall crop size in its May supply-and-demand report, but pushed up the release this time because of the sharp impact of government programs encouraging farmers to idle crop land. The department said in a report released Tuesday that participation in price-support programs would be heavy."

The government projected wheat production for the year beginning June 1 at 2.5 billion bushels, down 18% from the previous season. Stocks on May 1, 1984, are expected to be at 1.4 billion bushels, down 13% from the stocks anticipated for a year earlier.

This fall's soybean crop is projected at 2.1 billion bushels, an 8% reduction from last year. Stocks as of Aug. 31, 1984, are expected to total 285 million bushels, a year-to-year reduction of 25%.

Some grain elevator operators, in view of the good to excellent condition of the winter wheat, expect the reduction in wheat supplies may not be nearly as large as expected in spite of the acreage reduction.

Water Bonds for Low Cost Loans Being Proposed

water-efficient crop irrigation systems. The proposal is a component of a comprehensive "state water plan," a package of legislation unveiled Monday by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Hightower and the senate sponsors of the bills.

"More than 70 percent of all the fresh water used in Texas is used for agricultural purposes," Hightower explained at a Thursday news conference in the Senate Chamber. "so it goes without saying that agricultural water use must be a major component of any statewide plan addressing Texas' future water needs. We're all in this together, so it's critical that we come up with a plan that urban Texans and rural Texans, West Texans and East Texans can agree on."

"I'm supporting the whole package," Hightower said, "but I'm especially pleased with the approach of this proposal sponsored by Senators Montford and Sarrafian. It will be financed by the sale of bonds, and the loans made to farmers from the fund would be repaid to the state, so the cost to the taxpayers will be precisely zero. Our farmers will save money on their production costs. And the water they save through more efficient irrigation techniques will then be available to cover the needs of industrial development and population growth. Everybody wins."

"The focus of the entire water plan is essentially on conservation," Hightower noted, "but in no other area of water use is the potential for conservation savings as great as in the agricultural sector. Currently available technology can achieve 95 percent efficiency of water use - that is, it can get 95 percent of the irrigation water to the plants that need it. The fact is, however, that on the vast majority (71%) of the irrigated acreage in Texas today, more than 40 percent of the water is wasted - it's lost to seepage, evaporation or run-off. If we converted all the irrigation systems in Texas to the more efficient techniques, we would save more than 900 billion gallons a year. That's almost 200 times more water than every man, woman and child in Texas now can gulp down even in a year-long heat wave."

feed grains, cotton and rice will be taken out of production in a process finalized by the sign-up for the PIK program. Participating are 88 percent of the wheat growers, as many as 78 percent of corn and feed grain producers, 95 percent of cotton producers and 98 percent of rice producers. "All this Dolano said, 'is important evidence that farmers want to clear away price-depressing surpluses and produce for markets and not government storage bins.'"
Dolano said he thought the PIK program—designed to return excess stores of government-held commodities to farmers who produced them, in return for an agreement to cut back production acreage—would have the effect of reducing production expenses for participating farmers, and improve farm income for 1983. "More than that," he said, "is our hope that it will have a cleansing effect of phasing in supply to demand and positioning farmers for a better run in the marketplace."
"While we're glad to see the impetus that a program like PIK can bring to the farm economy," he said, "the long term goal is national economic health that agriculture can only reflect. Dolano said Farm Bureau would be pressing for its 'freeze and fix' program—to freeze federal expenditures at present levels over a three year period, and to make substantial revisions in federal spending programs."

gress in making the program more workable for the continued production of food and fiber.

Admiral Bobby R. Inman, former CIA deputy director, expressed similar concerns on global instability. In a brief history lesson on the growth of Communism, Inman called for a national consensus on national security policy. He said the U.S. can ill afford to be in decline in making national security its number one priority. Inman, a native Texan and intelligence expert, gave the keynote address of the convention.

The cattlemen were challenged by the president of the National Cattlemen's Association to step up industry and individual efforts to help make beef more competitive and to increase consumer demand for their product.

W.J. "Dub" Waldrip, NCA president from Lubbock, Texas, reminded cattlemen that basic consumer preference for beef remains strong. As evidence, he cited the much greater consumer expenditures for beef than for any other meat. However, he expressed worry about beef's position in the very competitive protein food market.

Hilmar G. Monr, chairman of the Beef Industry Council of the National Live Stock and Meat Board from Richmond, Texas, echoed Waldrip's concerns about the marketing problems of beef. But, on a decidedly positive note, Monr reviewed the industry's more recent efforts to aggressively resolve those problems. Monr noted that cattlemen will spend almost $10.7 million for beef promotion, research and information in fiscal year 1983.

Cattlemen were urged to redouble their efforts to support a voluntary 26-cent check off for beef promotion when they market cattle. In the first 10 months of the 1982-83 fiscal year, Texas cattlemen voluntarily rendered $1.1 million in that effort.

TSCRA Secretary-General Manager Don C. King of Fort Worth told the cattlemen the 106-year-old association now has 14,411 members rendering 2,806,750 head of cattle the highest cattle production in its history.

TSCRA's market inspectors looked at over 8.5 million head of cattle at the state's auction markets and terminal stockyards in 1982. In its law enforcement efforts, TSCRA field inspectors developed 195 theft cases, primarily involving cattle thefts, during 1982 in cooperation with other state and local law officers, King said. The average value of property recovered or accounted for each day amounted to $3,128.81, King said.

TSCRA re-elected for the coming year Seeligen as president, John M. "Jack" Shelton III of Amarillo as first vice president; J.E. Birdwell II of Lub-day some hare-brained exports came out with the idea that some 600 to 800 toxic chemicals MAY be lurking in the meat supply waiting to accumulate in our bodies and do us in. The vegetarians who are trying to eliminate meat, fish and fowl from their diets claim animal foods are resultant in hundreds of thousands of premature deaths among the populace and this kind of gossip just does not jibe with the facts that folks are living longer and longer and as a result Social Security is having to hike its retirement age to avoid bankruptcy.

One of the things we have observed over the years is that one way to sort the gossip from the facts is to study the source of the news. For instance, when our side says something and the Commies rear up and yell bloody murder, the chances are our side was right on target. When someone suggests there is more hokum than facts involved in what some of these special interest people present as truth, you can rest assured the facts were right by the amount of screeching & hollering it generates.

It is hard for us to believe that these journalistic gossips, who will pick up any kind of story to pass it along as facts instead of fiction, have got such a glib audience in these United States as to really do a lot of damage. The problem seems to be that folks with good sense just don't make as much noise as these so-called Advocates of this, that or the other, and it seems to be a case of these news persons getting mixed up on what is news and what is entertainment.

Ever this, The Editor.

P.S. Uncle Dunk says one of his East Texas spies reported a notable quote the other day. It was to the effect that if we put the Govmint in charge of the Sahara desert, we could surely expect a shortage of sand pronto. Dunk figures that regardless of which Budget is finally adopted that of the Administration or the House, the results will be the same. More taxes, more waste, more giveaways, and there really ain't much use to worry about it. Whatever the figures are, there is always that cute trick called Supplemental Appropriations that will be slipped over. The politicians waste a lot of time on makin' budgets, and about the only thing they accomplish is that it keeps 'em outta more serious mischief — Thassall, Brothel!

Western Heritage Art Show Premieres at Merchants State Bank

Dallas — A lone stagecoach travels across barren plains, a surprise Apache ambush on a narrow mountain trail—these are just a sampling of the scenes of the great American West to be displayed in an exclusive showing of fine art beginning April 5 at Merchants State Bank in Dallas.

The exhibit, which runs for approximately six weeks, will be the only opportunity for the public to view a collection of new multi-media artwork created by renowned artists specially for the 1983 Western Heritage Sale. The Western Heritage Sale is the world-famous black-tie auction of the art of the American West, Santa Gertrudis cattle and American Quarter Horses held each year in the Grand Ballroom of the Shamrock-Hilton hotel in Houston. Sponsored by Pina developer Joe Marchman, former Texas Governor John Connally, and Houston civic leader/financier Louis Pearce, Jr., the by-invitation-only event is set for May 13-14 and is again expected to bring record-setting prices for art, cattle and horses.

In addition to the public exhibit, Merchants State Bank Chairman Fred I. Brooks and Bank President David A. Flynn are hosting a private preview and reception April 4 honoring the artists and sponsors. This is the second year that Brooks and Flynn, both art collectors of fine art, have hosted the reception and exhibit.

Distinguished artists whose work will be on display include such notable as William A. Adair, James B. Bly, Duane Bryers, Paul Galle, G. Harvey, Harvey Johnson, James Kramer, Tom Lovell, Gary Niblett, Bill Owen, Robert Pummill, Jim Reno, Kenneth R. Morris Rippel, Lowell Ellsworth Smith, Gordon Snidow, Bettina Steinko, Paul Strick, John Stobart, Ray Swanson, Howard Terpning, William Whitman, Wayne Wolfe, Ed Fraughton, Tuz Subanks, Clark Hullings, Ole Stavrowsky and Ramon Kelley.

The Western Heritage Sale art exhibit may be seen at Merchants State Bank, 5217 Ross Avenue, during regular lobby hours from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday.

Hog slaughter for the month reached 97,000 head with an average of 255 pounds per head. State Statistician Doug Murfield reported that the February calf slaughter of 20,000 head had a total liveweight of 8 million pounds.

Some 48,000 sheep and lambs were commercially slaughtered in Texas with an average liveweight of 109 pounds.

Commercial red meat production for the United States totaled 2.8 billion pounds, with beef production accounting for 1.7 billion of the total.

Murfield noted that the total U.S. cattle slaughter for the month reached 2.7 million head, while the total hog kill was almost 6 million.

Nationally, cattle liveweight averaged 1,084 pounds per head, and hogs averaged 240 pounds.

Commodities Comment

Week Ending March 24, 1983

If you want to see a "fast track" watch these commodity and stock markets. Prices are flying all over the place with all sorts of bullish or bearish news. The grain markets now look so bullish due to the PIK Program that prices appear headed for the moon. Livestock prices, however, due to a very bearish Pig Crop Report, collapsed this past week under massive selling. In other words there's a little of something for everyone. One thing is for sure...there are plenty of games to play.

The grain markets exploded on the upside for the second week in a row. The PIK Program that the Reagan Administration has been pushing has pumped the grain markets to their highest level in a year. In essence, grain and cotton farmers will take $2.3 million acres out of production this year. This is nearly 30 million acres more than officials hoped would be idled. Following the PIK announcement soybeans closed up 24 cents, wheat up 12 cents, and corn up 8 cents. If there are any weather problems this year, these grain markets will skyrocket! Based on early weather forecasts a long dry summer seems probable. Don't be short!

The Mercantile Exchange got hit

There was a capacity crowd in attendance to enjoy the Oklahoma hospitality and purchase top range bulls. Thirty-nine buyers representing four states took part in the strong sale.

Top selling bull went to Dry Creek Beefmasters, Marianna, FL, at $10,500, with Seven W Ranch of Dallas, TX, taking the next two top bulls at $10,000 and $7500. Seven W was also the volume buyer of the sale.

Thompson Cattle Marketing, Inc. of San Antonio, managed the sale and Gerald Bowie was the auctioneer.

She is sired by the Canadian-bred bull, Justamere Alpine 150 Z, a Gold Trophy, Gold Seal, and Superior Sire developed by Bill Wolfe of Wallawa, Oregon, who is an American Polled Hereford Assoc. Director.

Star Creek Ranch Brangus Dispersal Set for April 25

Kilgore, Tx.—The Star Creek Ranch 100% Dispersal of the Foundation Brangus Herd will be held Monday, April 25, 1983. Sale time is 10:30 a.m. at the ranch at Kilgore, Texas.

Selling will be over 250 Brangus females, the majority with the get and service of General CMS. The sale will feature 1/8 interest in General (CMS) term and also keep an eye on money supply. These markets are so volatile that one needs to be careful taking a position in either direction. Right now due to this volatility all markets have much more risk than just several weeks ago. There are some great opportunities out there right now, but just be careful. If you're broke you can't move when opportunity knocks.

Politics Caused High Natural Gas Prices

Washington — The president of one of the most politically influential organizations in Texas told the fossil fuel subcommittee of the powerful House Energy and Commerce Committee today that, "It's senseless that some consumers in Texas pay more for natural gas produced in their own backyard than homeowners using Texas gas 1000 miles away in Chicago."

Harold E. "Gene" Wright, who heads the 5,400-member Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said that "the tangled mess of federal controls" has snatched away from consumers and producers the opportunity to do anything about rising prices.

"Much of the problem originates in how the pipeline system must operate," Wright related. "Texas producers sell their gas for an average of less than $2.50. By the time that gas gets to eastern consumers it's sometimes sold for three times that amount and sometimes for less than Texans pay."

Wright acknowledged that the pipelines are not always to blame. "The real culprit is a ludicrous stack of federal natural gas regulations that are siphoning it to the consumer and causing him to pay some costs that would not be there in a free-market."

He cited two cases in the Detroit area where a pipeline finally got permission from federal regulators to sell natural gas 25 percent cheaper than the going rate, but only until April 30. The Federal agency denied permission to

Producers Invited to Swine Short Course

College Station—Swine producers attending the 1983 Swine Short Course will be treated to a full day's program dealing with a host of topics ranging from herd health and slaughter hog marketing to hantavirus testing. This year's short course is slated for April 11 at the Luling Foundation Farm, Luling, with registration beginning at 8:30 a.m., sponsored by Mr. William P. Thomas, swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Rather than holding the annual short course at Texas A&M University as in past years, we are moving the program close to producers to reduce their travel time and time away from their operations," says Thomas. "Furthermore, the Luling Foundation has some new barn testing facilities that should be of interest to producers."

The short course will open with a discussion on transferring property to the next generation, with particular emphasis on tax management.

A key item in swine production is herd health, says Thomas, and how to plan and initiate a herd health program based on disease prevention will be discussed.

Another interesting topic, according to Thomas, will be how to make the most of old buildings by repairing or modifying them to maintain or increase production efficiency.

A panel discussion on management practices featuring six successful pork producers will conclude the morning session. These producers will discuss management practices that work for pasture and hand breeding systems, farrowing management using Smidley type farrowing houses and central farrowing houses, and growing and finishing pigs in dirt lots as well as in confinement systems.

A new pork carcass value program and results of Texas production barrow tests will be discussed during the afternoon session, notes Thomas.

In addition those in attendance will get a look at 20 pigs currently on a production test at the Luling Foundation. These pigs will be slaughtered shortly after the short course, and carcass information will be sent to all short course participants.

Another panel discussion will center on opportunities for Texas pork producers to market slaughter hogs, with emphasis on increasing marketing efficiency and prices.

The annual short course will conclude with a choice of two activities for participants—touring the new bar test station at the Luling Foundation or witnessing a post mortem examination of a pig.

A $10 registration fee will be charged for the short course and may be sent in advance to Dr. William B. Thomas, Room 212, Kleberg Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, TX 77843.

Monty Williams of Duncanville, Texas, is pictured with his grand slam winning heifer R & J Blossom. The grand slam win was worth $5,000 in special award money and will enable Monty to get a great start in the Angus business. The heifer was bred by R & J Ranch, Briggs, Texas.

Williams Angus Heifer Wins Grand Slam

BY BILL HALL
Texas Angus Assn.

For 17 year old Monty Williams of Duncanville, Texas it began on a cool, calm day in April when he and his Vocational Agriculture Instructor, Gary Bucholtz, made a journey to R & J Ranch, Briggs, Texas, in search of a really good Angus show heifer.

Assisted by Ken Conway, Manager of R & J, and Jim Reeves, Marketing Manager at R & J, and Gary Bucholtz, Monty finally picked out R & J Blossom 901, a March 6, 1981, long, framy and growthy heifer. Thus this began a long and successful relationship between these two.

With a lot of long, hard hours of hater breaking, grooming and feeding this great heifer, it was apparent that this heifer could go far in the show ring.

AND SHE DID. As Monty took her to the National Junior Angus Show held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. There were 486 head shown which made it the second largest Junior Angus Show ever held. R & J Blossom and Monty represented Texas well as she won her class in this monstrous show.

Blossom continued to grow and improve so next came the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, Texas. This was an Open Angus Show with 106 head exhibited. Monty's heifer was selected Reserve Grand Champion Female.

The State Fair of Texas in Dallas was next on the show circuit and Monty not only won his class, but won Grand Champion Angus Heifer out of fifty-eight head shown.

The competition in the Junior Shows in Texas ran deep in quality and numbers. Monty would have his work cut out for him if he were going to try to win every major show in the state, which had never been done before.

Not only was Monty trying to win the grand slam, but he had another goal to reach. R & J Ranch this year was offering a Sweepstake's option, which meant for every major show in Texas, if an R & J heifer was selected Grand Champion, R & J would present a $1,000.00 to the junior exhibitor of that heifer. And to make the pot sweeter, if any exhibitor won any three of the majors (National Junior Heifer Show, Dallas, Fort

March 31, 1983
WORTH, SAN ANTONIO OR HOUSTON) they would receive a bonus of an additional $2,000.00.

The Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show held in Fort Worth proved to be a strong show not only in numbers but depth of quality. 139 head was exhibited and again Monty was Grand Champion.

The San Antonio Show meant a great deal to Monty, not only could he be just one step away from winning the Grand Slam, but it meant receiving the bonus money offered by R & J. Well, Monty came through again and up to this date he had built up a pretty nice college fund of $5,000.00.

The final leg of the Grand Slam was upon him at the Houston Livestock Show, where probably in the strongest Angus Junior Show in Texas this year, he reached his goal. R & J Blossom was selected Grand Champion in a 119 head competition.

This story is just beginning; for Monty is using this great female in an embryo transplant program to build his own Angus herd and the money he received will help him continue his education. I am sure not only was his heifer a winner, but Monty will go far in life with his hard work and attitude on life.

Tax Credit for Energy Savings

Taxpayers can still insulate themselves from both the elements and some of their tax obligations by taking advantage of the energy tax credits, the IRS says.

The law provides for a tax credit of up to $900 for energy conservation materials installed in the home, with a separate credit of as much as $4,000 for taxpayers who install "renewable" energy source items such as solar or wind equipment, the IRS says.

The credit for energy conservation materials is figured at 15 percent of the first $2,000 spent on such items as storm or thermal windows and doors, insulation, weather-stripping and caulking. Also qualifying are furnace replacement burners, flue-opening modifications, electrical or mechanical ignition systems to replace gas pilot lights, and clock thermostats. Only materials installed in homes that were substantially completed before April 20, 1977, are eligible for this energy credit.

The "renewable" energy source credit is 40 percent of the first $10,000 invested in qualifying solar, wind, or geothermal equipment used to heat, cool, or provide hot water for use in the home according to the IRS.

Both credits are available for items purchased and installed on a taxpayer's principal residence on or after April 30, 1977, and before January 1, 1986. The "renewable" energy credit is available for both existing and newly constructed homes. Renters as well as homeowners are eligible for the credit.

For additional information on energy credits, taxpayers can order free IRS Publication 908, Energy Credits for Individuals, by using the handy order form in the tax package.

LOVE THAT is not expressed in loving action does not really exist, just as "talent" that does not express itself in creative works does not exist; neither of these is a state of mind, or feeling, but an activity, or it is a myth.

Paying Practices For Cattlemen

College Station - Certain management practices can put money in the bank for cattlemen - up to $90 more per cow each year.

Practices that virtually guarantee a net return are pregnancy testing, sorting and feeding cattle according to need, selecting bulls on performance and implanting steers.

"These practices can mean extra dollars because they help increase the calf crop and weaning weights," points out Dr. L. R. Sprott, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "This means more pounds of beef going to market, and that's the name of the game."

"Pregnancy testing is the easiest way to increase herd fertility and reproductive efficiency," emphasizes Sprott. "This allows you to cull open cows and to get rid of free-loaders - those cows that aren't producing a calf every year."

Proper nutrition goes hand-in-hand with pregnancy testing in that heifers and cows in good body condition breed faster and have higher calf crops, notes the specialist. Properly fed cows often have calf crops exceeding 85 percent and they also produce more milk, resulting in heavier calves at weaning. Cows in poor body condition often have calf crops below 70 percent.

West Kansas Feedlots

Dodge City, Mar. 26 (USDA) - Slaughter steers closed 1.00-2.00 higher, heifers 1.00-1.50 up. Many "Show Lists" were eliminated by the slow but steady cattle purchases. Slaughter resistance somewhat substantial due to unfavorable weather and weighing conditions. Two to six inches of snow fell over the area early in the week, rain Friday and more rain and snow forecast over the weekend are compounding feedlots ability to keep pens and bunk clean. Sales confirmed on 23,200 slaughter steers and 12,200 slaughter heifers for a total of 35,400.

Steers throughout the period, choice 2-4, mostly 3 1040-1250 lbs. 65.50-67.00, 66.50-67.00 late; choice with end good 64.00-66.50, 1150-1275 lb. Holsteins 63.50-65.50, 1225 lb. Holsteins 58.00. Heifers throughout the period, choice 2-4, mostly 3 900-1025 lbs. 63.00-64.50, 64.00-64.50 late; choice with end good 62.00-64.00 with end commercial 62.00-62.50; mixed good and choice 62.50.
